TWO CENTS

DIED IN BLACK DAMP.

While Fighting a Mine Fire
Five Men Are Suffocated.

ATTEMPTED TO REACH THE AIR.

Miners Run Into a Bank of Unsuspected
Deadly Gas—Not a Man Escaped—Four Bodies Have Been Recovered—Ignorant
Huns Had Fired the Vein.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 29.—Five men met a horrible death from black damp, the after accumulation of a fire, in the Jermyn No. 1 mine near Rendham. The dead are:

Isaac Watkins, fire boss, 55 years old, wife and one child, Rendham.

William Tompkins, company man, 22 years, single, boarded with Watkins.

Joseph Smith, company man, 25 years, wife and one child, Mudtown.

John Gallagher, company man, 42 years, wife and seven children, Minooka.

William Franklin, company man, 26 years, wife, Rendham.

The bodies of all but Watkins were discovered by a gang of men, who went into the mine with supplies for combating the fire. Since last Tuesday the fire has been raging in the mine. The men who lost their lives represented one shift. They went on duty at 3 o'clock and nobody suspected their untill the discovery of the bodies. Not a man in the party survived to tell the story. In the case of each body the head pointed toward the shaft, indicating that they had groped and struggled toward the shaft and fresher air while suffocation was overtaking them.

When the catastrophe was discovered word was passed to the surface and the excitement was intense. Gangs of men were lowered on the mine carriage.

They were found from one to three rods apart. The scene at the head of the shaft was tragical, while wives, mothers and children in frenzy fought for a sight of the bodies. The colliery employed about 300 hands. The mine has three veins. On Tuesday of last week a gang of ignorant Hungarian miners set off a body of gas in the "Digwoods" counter. Nobody was injured by the explosion. The burst of flame ignited the coal in the counter, and an attempt to extinguish the flames was begun. The presence of the deadly black damp was not known, and no fear of a widespread blaze until Monday. The spread of the flames was then found to be beyond the efforts to subdue them by ordinary process, and the order was given to close the mine. A systematic "fire fight" was started.

SPAINS REPLY SOON EXPECTED.

DeLome Slipped Back Into Washington and Saw Day.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The Spanish minister, Dupuy de Lome, has arrived here somewhat unexpectedly from Lenox, where he is spending the summer with his family. He reached Washington Monday noon, and, later in the day, called at the state department and saw Assistant Secretary of State Day. His presence in the city was not made known by the department, but it has finally leaked out. The legation is closed for the summer, and the minister took temporary quarters in an uptown apartment house. He expected also to call on Secretary Sherman. It is said by officials that the minister's visit has no special significance at this time. There appears to be no doubt, however, that the visit related to some extent to recent developments at Madrid in connection with Minister Woodford's interview with the Spanish minister for foreign affairs, the Duke of Tetuan.

The presence of Mr. Dupuy de Lome led to conjecture that Spain's answer to the recent views presented by Minister Woodford was about to be submitted. It can be positively stated, however, that no answer has been made, and that up to the present time the answer has not been framed. It would not be a surprise, however, if it were determined upon at any time in the near future, and it is thought that Minister Dupuy de Lome's visit is so timed as to permit him to be at the capitol in case any development in the way of answer or otherwise occurred at Madrid. The only manner in which an answer could be agreed upon is at a cabinet council attended by the queen regent. The queen has arrived at Madrid. Her arrival gave the first opportunity for definite action, and this probably had some part in the ministers return to Washington at this time.

CANADA MAKING THE TROUBLE.

Foster Believes England Will Participate In Seal Conference.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—No further advices from Ambassador Hay relative to the Bering sea conference, to be held in this city in October, have been received by Hon. John W. Foster, who conducted "the negotiations on behalf of the United States." Mr. Foster reiterates his statement that Great Britain will keep her engagement and that the conference will be held.

The present hitch he attributes to the objections raised by the Dominion of Canada. The date of the conference, which will occur some time in October, he thinks, will be fixed as soon as Mr. Thompson, one of the English experts, who is now on the ocean, arrives in London.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The Pall Mall Gazette publishes another interview which its Paris correspondent has had with M. Pierre Botkine, the Russian commissioner to the Bering sea conference, in which M. Botkine is quoted as saying he has not received any notification of the Marquis of Salisbury's objection to Russia and Japan being represented at the conference.

On the other hand, the Russian official expressed the opinion that such an attitude upon the part of the Marquis of Salisbury would not delay the conference at Washington, which would be held just as if nothing had happened to change the original plans, only the British ambassador to the United States, Sir Julian Pauncefote, would be absent, which, he added, was most regrettable.

In conclusion, M. Botkine reiterated the necessity for some protection to prevent the total extermination of the seals.

SOME FAST PACING.

Star Pointer and Joe Patchen's Great Performance at Terre Haute—Patchen Lowers His Record by One Quarter of a Second.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 29.—The two fastest miles ever paced over a track in one day and the fastest quarter ever paced were made here, and yet the world's pacing record stands as Star Pointer made it at Meadville. In point of track and weather the conditions were just right, but there were unfavorable circumstances connected with both the Star Pointer and Joe Patchen speed trials here. In last week's race at Milwaukee between Pointer and Patchen the Pointer horse broke his harness in the second heat. In steadying him McClary had to pull hard on Pointer's ulcerated tooth that has troubled him much of late.

A change from link to snaffle bit was made, but the horse showed plainly that his mouth troubled him. He got away slowly, and, fearing to hurt his mouth, McClary drove him wide of the pole. From the half on he was squared away, doing the third quarter in 20 seconds and the last half in 58 3/4 seconds. Patchen was fit for the race of his life, but the pacemaker failed to come up fast enough, and the first and second quarters were seen to be slower than Patchen could go. He came the last half in 59 1/4 seconds, lowering his record a quarter of a second, and finished strong and well within himself.

THE MONETARY COMMISSION.

Its Report Will Not Likely Be Ready
Before December.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The members of the monetary commission are holding daily sessions at the Arlington hotel laying out the program for the work that is before them. Their discussions are informal, but within a few days they expect to be able to announce the sub-committees which will have charge of the various branches of the investigation to be made.

There will be three of these sub-committees, one on gold and silver which will investigate the subject of our basic money, the extent of the use of silver, etc., one on United States notes which will investigate the several classes of outstanding United States notes, the advisability of retiring the greenbacks, etc., and one on banking, the duty of which will be to consider and formulate a banking scheme which will meet the demands and requirements of the country.

As the discussion has proceeded the members realize the wide scope of the investigation upon which they are entering and are beginning to doubt their ability to complete their labors and submit their report before congress assembles. The report will likely be ready not before the middle of December.

ENGINEER IN LUCK.

Suspended For Allowing Fair Passengers
In His Cab Is Rewarded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—When coming across the continent recently, Mrs. Herman Oelrichs and Miss Virginia Fair accepted the invitation of Engineer Shool of the Union Pacific to ride in the cab of his engine from Premonitory to Terrace, a stretch of road noted for its scenic beauty.

The rules of the company are against the extension of such privileges as riding on the engine to passengers unless a special permit is produced, and so the engineer was suspended for 40 days for disobedience of orders. On learning of this order Mrs. Oelrichs wired Engineer Shool to come to San Francisco. He arrived here and it is currently reported that his unauthorized courtesy is to be handsomely rewarded.

ZANESVILLE, O., Sept. 29.—Heavy fog obscured the track so that a handcar was struck about three miles out by the inspection train of the Muskingum Valley officers, and three men were killed and two injured. They were section men coming into the city. The dead are:

Edward Davis.

Winfield Halsey.

William Menefee.

WHIPPED BY WILLIAMS

Old Democrat Leaders Turned Down In Massachusetts.

CHICAGO PLATFORM ENDORSED.

Congressman Fitzgerald Compelled to Take His Seat on Becoming Obstetrical—
A Hot Time Resulted—Williams' Nomination Was Made Unanimous.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 29.—George Fred Williams of Dedham was nominated for governor of Massachusetts by the Democratic state convention on a platform that squarely endorses that adopted by the national convention at Chicago last summer. The other nominees are:

Lieutenant governor—Christopher T. Callahan of Holyoke.

Secretary—C. D. Nash of Whitman.

Attorney general—John A. O'Keefe of Lynn.

Treasurer and receiver general—T. A. Watson of Boston.

Auditor—J. D. Chalfoux of Lowell. The convention was so disorderly at times as almost to require the intervention of the police. George Fred Williams was the principal figure in the convention. There was no opposition to his nomination for governor, but his insistence on the turning down of old party leaders who were lukewarm in support of himself and Bryan last fall created a tumult at the outset before permanent organization had been effected.

Congressman Fitzgerald was ordered to his seat when he attempted to speak, and his adherents at one time threatened to sustain him by force. Finally order was restored.

Mr. Williams was nominated by unanimous vote. He was escorted to the platform and made his speech of acceptance.

TRACEY IS THE MAN.

Nominated as the Republican Standard-bearer In the Greater New York
Mayorality Fight—Seth Low's Poor Showing—Purroy Democrats In Line.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—After a lively session the Republican city convention nominated General Benjamin F. Tracey for mayor and Ashbel P. Fitch for comptroller and adopted a platform squarely opposed to that of the Chicago convention. Mr. Fitch is at present comptroller, being renominated in token of the aid rendered last year by gold Democrats towards McKinley's election.

General Tracey and Senator Platt were given an ovation. The Purroy faction of Tammany Hall will act with the Republicans to down Seth Low, championed by the Citizens' Union.

Before balloting the Low delegates in the convention refused to withdraw his name. The vote stood: Tracey, 297; Low, 49; ex-Mayor Schroeder of Brooklyn, 2. General Tracey's nomination was made unanimous.

The platform says: "Every intelligent voter knows that if the first mayor of the Greater New York is the candidate of this convention, a mighty impulse will be given in support of every sound principle of government. Every intelligent voter knows, on the other hand, that if the first mayor of the Greater New York is a Tammany Democrat, the effect will be greatly to revive the hopes and promote the schemes that are grouped in the public mind in the name of Bryanism, and at the same time to deliver this magnificent metropolis into the hands of an organized conspiracy for public plunder. We indorse the St. Louis platform. We believe that it needs the support of the intelligent and patriotic people of New York as much today as it did one year ago. It is not only the cause of sound money, it is pre-eminently the cause of social order."

A SILVER FIGHT DEVELOPED.

Friends of White Metal Want Free Coinage Endorsed by Convention.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—When the report of the committee on resolutions of the national labor convention was presented a big row ensued. A resolution was handed in yesterday approving of the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 and the free-silver people in the convention felt certain that the resolution would be embodied in the committee's report. When it was returned, however, it said nothing of free coinage, but instead had this clause: "We favor the issue of a staple legal tender by the government direct and the establishment of government savings banks."

It was finally voted to have the resolutions accepted and printed, and at today's session when they come up for final passage a lively time is anticipated, as the silver men declare they will make every effort to have a free silver plank inserted.

The report is about 1,500 words long and is addressed "to the labor and reform organizations of America." In the introduction it refers to the "battle against monopoly" and speaks of the ballot as the safest means of reform. The report says among other things: "We admit the failure of the strike method."

"We favor a series of national conventions to which we invite the friends of labor in a movement looking toward political action."

"We recognize the necessity of strikes, but the most effective strike is the ballot box."

Eugene V. Debs was not present.

BRYAN'S ADVICE TO DEMOCRATS.

New York Editor Has the Letter, but May Not Make It Public.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Regarding the letter said to have been written by William J. Bryan on the proper attitude on national issues of the Democracy of Greater New York in the pending municipal campaign Colonel W. L. Brown of The Daily News, to whom the letter was said to have been addressed, said:

"Not one word of the letter which I received from Mr. Bryan has been made public. No one, except a few of the leaders has seen it. I will make it public whenever the leaders of Tammany hall deem it advisable and not until then. It may be given out in a few days and it may never be given out."

Favors Municipal Ownership.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 29.—One hundred delegates are attending the convention of mayors and councilmen of cities in the United States and Canada. New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Brooklyn and other large cities are not represented. Mayor MacVicar of Des Moines read a paper favoring municipal ownership of gas, street railway and other natural monopolies.

Catching Up With America.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The three European cities of Dublin, Barcelona and Madrid are to be equipped with trolley systems. The contract has just been closed with the British Thomson-Houston company of Boston.

TRADE AT STANDSTILL

Yellow Fever Has Thrown
Many Out of Employment.

SHOTGUN QUARANTINE TO BLAME.

The Daily Average of New Cases and Deaths Continues at New Orleans.
About 10,000 People Have Managed to Leave the City—Death Rate Low.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—The yellow fever situation here continues exasperatingly the same. A daily average of 18 to 20 cases and two deaths has kept up. But, while there is no sign of an epidemical visitation, the slow progress of the disease puts obstacles daily in the way of the merchant public, who are anxious to again resume trade with the surrounding country. The record was not unlike that of many other days, in that it showed a death, through sheer neglect, of the patient, and 31 cases up to date have resulted fatally.

The facts are incontrovertible that at least half died through neglect or lack of attention.

Business is showing feeble signs of revival and the railroads are putting forward superhuman efforts to secure a modification of the quarantine regulations. Dr. Oliphant's trip up the road today, at the invitation of the Southern Pacific company, with a view to securing a modification of existing quarantines, will settle one way or another whether or not trade is to start for several weeks. The trip will also settle the question of whether or not New Orleans will raise the bar against Galveston and other Texas points. In the meantime the Crescent City finds itself incapable of shipping a pound of freight to Texas. The result of this, of course, is the throwing out of employment of hundreds and thousands of people here. The railroads, the manufacturing, the big wholesale and retail stores have all dispensed with the services of many of their employees until business again picks up.

Now that the force of senseless quarantine in being felt the theaters and hotels more than ever feel the injury being done the city. The hotels have done away with all extra help and have cut off many of their hands, and every man woman and child is living rigid economy. The condition of affairs is due entirely to the strict shotgun quarantines that have been established in the country when there is no possible chance of an epidemic here. It is probable that there have left some 10,000 people, but there are still not less than 175,000 remaining and even those who were frightened a fortnight ago have come to realize that there is no possible chance whatever for an epidemic. In September, 1878, there were between 80 and 90 people died of yellow fever daily. Today the daily average since the beginning of the fever here is hardly one.

Growing Worse In Mississippi.

EDWARDS, Miss., Sept. 29.—Dr. Dunn of the state board of health gives the following statement: "The yellow fever situation seems to be growing worse daily. Five out of the six mentioned as seriously ill have had repeated attacks of black vomit. The fever is fast mowing down the white male population, and at the present rate a few immune nurses and doctors will soon have to be relieved." At Ocean Springs, Surgeon Murray reports one case and at Scranton five cases.

CANNIBALISM SUSPECTED.

Peary's Party Found Human Remains
In Greeley's Polar Camp.

POSTON, Sept. 29.—In an interview Assistant Engineer Knight of Lieutenant Peary's ship Hope states that positive proofs of cannibalism were found at Lieutenant Greeley's camp at Cape Sabine as a landing party. Mr. Knight says that when Cape Sabine was reached only the scientists of the party and one or two attendants to do the rough work were landed. Before going ashore each of the party was told to expect to find some disagreeable things, but to be prepared to keep silence forever, if necessary, as to what was found.

The most important find was not brought on board, but buried near the camp. It consisted of the frozen remains of a human right thigh that was found in the snow outside the camp proper near the place used as a burial ground by the Greeley party. This part of a limb was taken from the body at the hip joint, the separation having evidently been made by a knife. For about a foot from the hip down the bone was bare, the flesh having apparently been cut away as a butcher cuts a leg of beef.

A Civil Service Decision.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 29.—Judge Baer of the United States circuit court has declined to enjoin Samuel E. Kercheval, United States marshal, as petitioned for by Charles T. Taylor, a Democratic deputy, on the ground that he was in the classified service. In the opinion of the court the tenure of office of the complainant terminated with the expiration of the official term of the former United States marshal.

TRADE AT STANDSTILL

Yellow Fever Has Thrown
Many Out of Employment.

SHOTGUN QUARANTINE TO BLAME.

The Daily Average of New Cases and Deaths Continues at New Orleans.
About 10,000 People Have Managed to
Leave the City—Death Rate Low.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—The yellow fever situation here continues exasperatingly the same. A daily average of 18 to 20 cases and two deaths has kept up. But, while there is no sign of an epidemical visitation, the slow progress of the disease puts obstacles daily in the way of the merchant public, who are anxious to again resume trade with the surrounding country. The record was not unlike that of many other days, in that it showed a death, through sheer neglect, of the patient, and 31 cases up to date have resulted fatally.

The facts are incontrovertible that at least half died through neglect or lack of attention.

Business is showing feeble signs of revival and the railroads are putting forward superhuman efforts to secure a modification of the quarantine regulations. Dr. Oliphant's trip up the road today, at the invitation of the Southern Pacific company, with a view to securing a modification of existing quarantines, will settle one way or another whether or not trade is to start for several weeks. The trip will also settle the question of whether or not New Orleans will raise the bar against Galveston and other Texas points. In the meantime the Crescent City finds itself incapable of shipping a pound of freight to Texas. The result of this, of course, is the throwing out of employment of hundreds and thousands of people here. The railroads, the manufacturing, the big wholesale and retail stores have all dispensed with the services of many of their employees until business again picks up.

Now that the force of senseless quarantine in being felt the theaters and hotels more than ever feel the injury being done the city. The hotels have done away with all extra help and have cut off many of their hands, and every man woman and child is living rigid economy. The condition of affairs is due entirely to the strict shotgun quarantines that have been established in the country when there is no possible chance of an epidemic here. It is probable that there have left some 10,000 people, but there are still not less than 175,000 remaining and even those who were frightened a fortnight ago have come to realize that there is no possible chance whatever for an epidemic. In September, 1878, there were between 80 and 90 people died of yellow fever daily. Today the daily average since the beginning of the fever here is hardly one.

Growing Worse In Mississippi.

EDWARDS, Miss., Sept. 29.—Dr. Dunn of the state board of health gives the following statement: "The yellow fever situation seems to be growing worse daily. Five out of the six mentioned as seriously ill have had repeated attacks of black vomit. The fever is fast mowing down the white male population, and at the present rate a few immune nurses and doctors will soon have to be relieved." At Ocean Springs, Surgeon Murray reports one case and at Scranton five cases.

CANNIBALISM SUSPECTED.

Pearry's Par y Found Human Remains
In Greeley's Polar Camp.

POSTON, Sept. 29.—In an interview Assistant Engineer Knight of Lieutenant Peary's ship Hope states that positive proofs of cannibalism were found at Lieutenant Greeley's camp at Cape Sabine by a landing party. Mr. Knight says that when Cape Sabine was reached only the scientists of the party and one or two attendants to do the rough work were landed. Before going ashore each of the party was told to expect to find some disagreeable things, but to be prepared to keep silence forever, if necessary, as to what was found.

The most important find was not brought on board, but buried near the camp. It consisted of the frozen remains of a human right thigh that was found in the snow outside the camp proper near the place used as a burial ground by the Greeley party. This part of a limb was taken from the body at the hip joint, the separation having evidently been made by a knife. For about a foot from the hip down the bone was bare, the flesh having apparently been cut away as a butcher cuts a leg of beef.

A Civil Service Decision.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 29.—Judge Baer of the United States circuit court has declined to enjoin Samuel E. Kercheval, United States marshal, as petitioned for by Charles T. Taylor, a Democratic deputy, on the ground that he was in the classified service. In the opinion of the court the tenure of office of the complainant terminated with the expiration of the official term of the former United States marshal.

Farmers Hope the Commissioners Will Not Delay

IN WIDENING CALCUTTA ROAD

Old Soldiers and the Street Railway Are Also Interested—Influence Being Brought to Bear Upon the County Authorities to Start at Once.

Much influence is being brought to bear on the county commissioners, in the hope that they will order the improvement of the Calcutta road before the cold weather comes to prevent it.

It will be remembered the commissioners not long ago viewed the road, and received bids for the moving of 12,000 cubic yards of earth, which will reduce the grade from Riverview cemetery to Avondale street. John Rinehart at that time bid $5,000 and Thomas Stevenson $2,000, but the contract was not let. It is the intention to make the road 60 feet wide.

The farmers who reside in that part of the county are very anxious to have the improvement made, since it means a great deal to them, while local Grand Army men are hoping it will be completed because of the location of the memorial chapel at Riverview cemetery. They have been informed that it will not require much persuasion for the street railway company to run a line to that point. If this can all be done by the time the chapel is dedicated it will mean much toward the success of that occasion.

Meantime every possible influence is being brought to bear on the commissioners to let the contract at once, and East Liverpool should lend its aid since it would be materially felt here.

SHE WAS WRONG.

The Original Poem Wasn't by Cowper at All, but by Some One Else.

There is a woman's literary club on the South Side which is having the hardest imaginable time to keep together. Unlike most similar organizations, it is not from want of money that this association of fair students is constantly threatened with disbandment. A spirit of discontent and rivalry stalks through the meetings.

The original purpose of the club was a thorough criticism of the works of Homer, Dante, Shakespeare, Milton, Spenser and Sir Edwin Arnold. But, although this laudable intention was adhered to for several months, after awhile some of them got to writing essays and other papers to read before the society. The book trade may not have noticed it, but at that time there was a considerable run on concordances, glossaries, books of synonyms and literary dictionaries. Ever since then things have gone from bad to worse. It seems impossible to maintain harmony.

The vice president of the organization, a charming young lady, whether considered mentally or from her photograph, recently wrote a rather extended poem in a very lofty strain. She read it to the club. Amid the general applause which followed there came from several remote corners of the room something like murmurs. A couple of her auditors were heard to say that she had never written anything like that before; that they didn't believe any one in the club was capable of it; that, in fact, several passages sounded strangely familiar.

Finally one member with glasses and a very penetrating expression, addressing the author of the poem, said:

"Didn't you get some of that from Cowper? I'm sure you did."

"I did nothing of the kind," retorted the vice president, flushing at the accusation.

"Oh, but I remember almost the exact lines!" persisted her accuser.

"How dare you say so!" returned the poet hotly.

"But we'll get the book and look," persisted the other.

"You're a mean, mean thing," said the vice president, bursting into tears. "I didn't get this from Cowper at all. And now that you're so smart I'll not tell you where I did get it."—Chicago Tribune.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Mayor Harrison has agreed to use his influence in settling the differences between to Chicago City Railway company and its employees in the hope that the threatened strike may be averted.

LET US VOTE.

A Republican Wants to Select the Postmaster.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I have read with satisfaction that the NEWS REVIEW believes the Republicans of East Liverpool should select the postmaster who will follow M. E. Miskall. We voted for the ticket, and worked hard for McKinley. Other men voted and worked, too, we will admit, but just why they should name any man they happen to decide on is one of the things we don't understand. We all should have something to say about it, and the only way we can have it is through an election. If the question of holding an election was left to the voters I feel confident they would support it. Let's have the election.

When She Thought Her Boy Would Go to the Works.

Mrs. Kennedy, living in West End, called at the mayor's office last evening and desired to have her son, John, released from the toils. For this she offered part of the fine imposed by the mayor and asked if he could be released, he, of course, paying the balance some time again.

To this the mayor turned a deaf ear, and Mrs. Kennedy said "Well I guess he will have to go to the works." She went out, and within 20 minutes returned with the full amount. She handed it to the mayor, and from the time she entered the office the last time until she went out with her son not one word was spoken.

ROBISON IS QUIET.

The Condemned Man Annoys No One.

Zach Robison, according to a report from Columbus, spends the greater part of his time in attending to his own business and watching the man confined with him in the annex. That individual will soon pay the penalty of his crime in the chair, and when he thinks he is not observed Robison watches his every action. Robison occasionally receives letters from his friends in Pennsylvania and his son at Fort Riley, but they are not long and only contain a few details concerning the attempt being made to secure him another trial.

SETTLED A QUARREL.

Officer Terrence Gave a Little Good Advice.

Officer Terrence yesterday afternoon was called to Seventh street to settle a quarrel between Mrs. Watters and Mrs. Harry Hancock. When the officer arrived the women were calling each other pet names, while a large crowd of spectators had collected. The officer informed the women they would have to stop their sport, and if they had any grievance to settle to make complaint before the mayor.

Mails Are Very Heavy.

The mails for the last three days have been very heavy, and especially that put on the evening eastern train.

Monday night there were nine pouches from this place and last night there were eight. On an average only five to seven are sent from Liverpool. The two extra mails that have been put on does not seem to decrease the amount of the late mails any.

Not at the Conference.

Mayor Gilbert decided at the eleventh hour that he would not attend the annual convention of mayors, marshals and councilmen now being held in Columbus. Mayor Black, of that city, is in receipt of his regrets, and he was at his desk in city hall bright and early this morning.

Poisoned Dogs.

A number of dogs have been poisoned in the upper part of the city within the past few days, and their owners are swearing vengeance on the poisoners if they can be located. It has been some time since the individual with the deadly button has made his presence known.

Cutting Down the Street.

Yesterday afternoon Sanitary Officer Burgess began the work of excavating the small hill in front of his residence, 179 Third street. New steps will be erected leading from the street, and the work when completed will make quite an improvement to that square.

TALKED ABOUT HEALTH

The Board Held a Lively Meeting.

ON RECORD FOR SEWERAGE

Mr. Whitacre Would Rather Have His Property Eaten Up by Taxes Than to Live in a Dead, Dirty Town—The Board of Trade Has a Big Plan.

Every member of the board of health was present last night at the most spirited meeting that body has held in a year.

No report was received from the committee appointed to look after the cleaning of the streets, and the time was extended until next meeting.

Secretary McCreary said the township trustees had been notified of the slaughterhouse nuisance beyond West End, and the dead animals up the creek, and they had been stopped. The school board had positively refused to put a sewer from the Central building to the river, but offered to lay one to Main street if the city would give the connection.

Mr. Ashley said that the state health officer had given as his opinion that the board could be compelled to put the sewer to the river.

"This is where we run against the wall that has checked the progress of this board," said Mr. Whitacre, referring to the lack of a sewer system. "Duty reminds us of the necessity of a sewer system."

Mr. Windram thought it best to notify the board of improvements to lay the sewer from Main, and the other board to make the connection.

"I think it time this board accomplished something or disbanded. We have done nothing. I think every member should advocate a sewer system, and do away with these complaints," said Mr. Whitacre.

Mr. Knepper thought the board should enforce its authority and cease talking. Mr. Windram said the board should assert itself and then stand by what it had done.

"The condition of our streets is a disgrace," said Doctor Hutchinson. "I can show you within two squares two cartloads of filth in the street. I can also show you evidences of dirty dish-water constantly emptied in the streets, and nothing is said of it."

"Give me orders and I'll enforce the law," broke in Officer Warren.

Mr. Windram moved the people be notified through the newspapers to cease throwing filth in streets and alleys, and it carried.

Mr. Whitacre said there was an ordinance "old enough to have whiskers," which covered that ground.

Mr. Ashly remarked the board had a big job on hand, and Mr. Whitacre suggested that they resign and turn the work over to the ladies if they were not equal to the task.

Officer Warren was ordered to post notices where he found nuisances, and the board struck the stone wall again by talking sewerage.

Mr. Whitacre was ready to meet any argument against it, and wanted to go on record as a property owner who was ready to break down the wall and let out the filth of the city. He would rather have his property eaten up by taxation than live in a dead, dirty town and see his hard earnings fade away while he derived no benefit.

Dr. Hutchison moved the board plead, beg, implore and request the mayor to enforce the rusty ordinance, and it passed.

Mr. Knepper said there were a number of hog pens on Yellow creek. The water emptied into the river just above the intake pipe of the water works, "and we are drinking the dregs of the pens." The pens are being investigated by the board today. It is probable the trustees will be asked to order the removal of the 150 hogs.

Another complaint was made of two vaults and the grease and acid flowing from the mill to Wells and Yellow creeks. The nuisance will be abated.

Officer Warren said he had notified citizens to cut weeds, and many had obeyed the order. He also stated that it was the commissioner's duty to clean a clogged sewer on Third street, but he had received no order from council, and it was still clogged. A nuisance at House's saloon was ordered abated.

It was a good meeting, and it seems that the board has at last decided to have the city cleaned.

Another Meeting.

The board of trade held another meeting last evening with closed doors, and the proceedings are kept in secret. It is known, however, the board has a big project on foot, and with the proper aid will be able to surprise the citizens in a very short time. They are making a strong effort to benefit the city in general, and those in position to do so should lend a helping hand when they are called upon.

The News of Wellsville.

C. W. Dennison, of Alliance, returned home today.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Cornelius, of Avalon, Pa., are visiting friends here. They will remain a week or more.

J. H. Tucker, of Wheeling, was in town today.

Bert Fisher, of Medina, O., is here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gill, of Lisbon, spent the day in the city.

The suit of D. Cornelius against A. M. Littenberger on a note came up in Justice MacKenzie's court yesterday, and was continued. The suit was settled later out of court.

The big Cleveland and Pittsburg engine which was expected here today did not make its appearance. It is reported when the engine made its trial trip there was a defect in its equalizer, and it was returned to the shops to have it remedied. It will arrive the latter part of the week if everything works well.

BOECKER STILL LIVING.

But the Brutal Iowa Murderer Cannot Recover.

CARROLL, Ia., Sept. 29.—John Boecker, the murderer of his wife and five children, still lives, though his recovery is impossible. The son, Henry, shows signs of returning strength, but physicians say his wound is fatal. The bodies of the mother and children have been prepared for burial at Breda.

The coroner's jury has adjourned till tomorrow, so no finding has been returned. It is now known that Boecker bought a supply of chloroform at Breda last week, ostensibly to doctor hogs for cholera. With this he threw the family into their final sleep, and was enabled to commit the murders without resistance. Those who know him best say Boecker's mind has been affected for some time.

TALKED ABOUT HEALTH

The Board Held a Lively Meeting.

ON RECORD FOR SEWERAGE

Mr. Whitacre Would Rather Have His Property Eaten Up by Taxes Than to Live In a Dead, Dirty Town—The Board of Trade Has a Big Plan.

Every member of the board of health was present last night at the most spirited meeting that body has held in a year.

No report was received from the committee appointed to look after the cleaning of the streets, and the time was extended until next meeting.

Secretary McCreary said the township trustees had been notified of the slaughterhouse nuisance beyond West End, and the dead animals up the creek, and they had been stopped. The school board had positively refused to put a sewer from the Central building to the river, but offered to lay one to Main street if the city would give the connection.

Mr. Ashley said that the state health officer had given as his opinion that the board could be compelled to put the sewer to the river.

"This is where we run against the wall that has checked the progress of this board," said Mr. Whitacre, referring to the lack of a sewer system. "Duty reminds us of the necessity of a sewer system."

Mr. Windram thought it best to notify the board of improvements to lay the sewer from Main, and the other board to make the connection.

"I think it time this board accomplished something or disbanded. We have done nothing. I think every member should advocate a sewer system, and do away with these complaints," said Mr. Whitacre.

Mr. Knepper thought the board should enforce its authority and cease talking. Mr. Windram said the board should assert itself and then stand by what it had done.

"The condition of our streets is a disgrace," said Doctor Hutchinson. "I can show you within two squares two cartloads of filth in the street. I can also show you evidences of dirty dish-water constantly emptied in the streets, and nothing is said of it."

"Give me orders and I'll enforce the law," broke in Officer Warren.

Mr. Windram moved the people be notified through the newspapers to cease throwing filth in streets and alleys, and it carried.

Mr. Whitacre said there was an ordinance "old enough to have whiskers," which covered that ground.

Mr. Ashly remarked the board had a big job on hand, and Mr. Whitacre suggested that they resign and turn the work over to the ladies if they were not equal to the task.

Officer Warren was ordered to post notices where he found nuisances, and the board struck the stone wall again by talking sewerage.

Mr. Whitacre was ready to meet any argument against it, and wanted to go on record as a property owner who was ready to break down the wall and let out the filth of the city. He would rather have his property eaten up by taxation than live in a dead, dirty town and see his hard earnings fade away while he derived no benefit.

Dr. Hutchison moved the board plead, beg, implore and request the mayor to enforce the rusty ordinance, and it passed.

Mr. Knepper said there were a number of hog pens on Yellow creek. The water emptied into the river just above the intake pipe of the water works, "and we are drinking the dregs of the pens." The pens are being investigated by the board today. It is probable the trustees will be asked to order the removal of the 150 hogs.

Another complaint was made of two vaults and the grease and acid flowing from the mill to Wells and Yellow creeks. The nuisance will be abated.

Officer Warren said he had notified citizens to cut weeds, and many had obeyed the order. He also stated that it was the commissioner's duty to clean a clogged sewer on Third street, but he had received no order from council, and it was still clogged. A nuisance at House's saloon was ordered abated.

It was a good meeting, and it seems that the board has at last decided to have the city cleaned.

Another Meeting.

The board of trade held another meeting last evening with closed doors, and

BOECKER STILL LIVING.

But the Brutal Iowa Murderer Cannot Recover.

CARROLL, Ia., Sept. 29. — John Boecker, the murderer of his wife and five children, still lives, though his recovery is impossible. The son, Henry, shows signs of returning strength, but physicians say his wound is fatal. The bodies of the mother and children have been prepared for burial at Breda.

We don't hear so much of factories

THE movement to protect the streets is timely, and council can do no better than add the law to the list as soon as possible.

AFTER the long list of lynchings of the past few weeks it is cheering to note that a West Virginia mob was really foiled by the authorities at Welch.

McLEAN is charged with personally conducting the campaign. That is worse than any accusation Allen O'Myers ever wrote concerning him while he was preparing the now famous
"Bosses and Boodle."

CANDIDATE CHAPMAN has commenced a campaign of explanation. If he was older in politics he would know that policy of that kind does not please the people of Ohio. They like to support men who do not have to explain.

EAST LIVERPOOL, because of the large number of traveling salesmen who go out from this place each year, is particularly interested in the attempt to be made by the railroads for the enactment of an anti-scalping law by the next legislature. This town pays too much money for traveling to allow the taking away of the privilege to buy a scalper's ticket without some objection.

THE RIGHT INFLUENCE.

For some unknown reason the people of New York and other eastern states have but to go into congress with the request, and they are given almost unlimited money for use in deepening their harbors and improving their rivers.
We of the west are not so fortunate. It is very much like pulling teeth to gain any concession from the government, particularly when the Ohio river is concerned.

For many years has congress been pouring millions into the Hudson and a number of other streams of less importance, while fortunes have been sunk into the bottoms of harbors when the people asked appropriations, and it is not ended. The next congress will be asked to appropriate other millions and other fortunes in order that these improvements may be continued and made permanent works.

Not so with the Ohio. Long as the mighty interests which line its shores from Pittsburg to Cincinnati, have been endeavoring to secure some recognition from the river and harbor committee of congress, they have met with but indifferent success. It is true the Davis Island dam has been built, and contractors are working at Merrill, while there is an appropriation to build other dams between the mouth of the Beaver and Pittsburg; but what are they when compared with the expensive works along the Kanawha, or the improvements in any one of half a dozen other rivers?
They show clearly that the Ohio has been neglected—that the right influence has not been brought to bear upon the men who disperse the nation's gold.
Where is the state board of commerce?
Why has not that important body taken up the matter, and by the power of its political and commercial influence demanded that something be done? We of the Ohio valley do not deny that the stream, strictly speaking, is beyond the boundaries of the state, but we do claim that one of the best and most powerful industrial sections of the country is formed by the mills and factories which stand upon its right bank, from Pittsburg to Cincinnati. A series of dams making the river navigable every day of the year, would greatly increase the business of this section, and add largely to the taxes of Ohio. Is it not therefore the duty of every power in the state to urge that the improvement be made, and made as soon as the government can afford it?

FAIR PLAY.

A Warm Friend of Rev. O. S. Reed Speaks Out.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I am an humble Christian. I am a warm friend of Professor O. S. Reed. I believe in and trust him, because I believe him to be a true Christian minister, battling against evil in every form in which it presents its hideous self; a minister of God who has the courage of his convictions, and who fears no foe which the enemy of God can control. The letters which Reverend Reed's opponents brought forth are warm recommendations for my friend, but not half so warm as will be produced at the proper time. Innuendoes and hints of wrong doing on the part of Reverend Reed have been made use of. These are the weapons of poltroons and cowards. If Reverend Reed's enemies have proof of wrong doing against him, then it is the bounden duty of those enemies, if they be Christians, to produce those proofs. My friend, like a true and courageous man, as every Christian, having nothing to hide, should be, rings out manly defiance, and dares his enemies to produce any proofs of his doing evil or wrong.
Stop the hints. Act like honorable men.
Speak out in meetin'. Finally. Let traducers beware. Battle against right is sure to be futile, and slanderers will do well to be careful.

tended. The lecturer, Doctor Peschau, spoke eloquently, his subject being the "Cemetery of the Sea." Miss Alice
Goodwin sang beautifully, and Mr.
Wagner gave a splendid solo.

We don't hear so much of factories resuming these days—almost all are in operation.

THE movement to protect the streets is timely, and council can do no better than add the law to the list as soon as possible.

AFTER the long list of lynchings of the past few weeks it is cheering to note that a West Virginia mob was really foiled by the authorities at Welch.

McLEAN is charged with personally conducting the campaign. That is worse than any accusation Allen O'Myers ever wrote concerning him while he was preparing the now famous "Bosses and Boodle."

CANDIDATE CHAPMAN has commenced a campaign of explanation. If he was older in politics he would know that policy of that kind does not please the people of Ohio. They like to support men who do not have to explain.

EAST LIVERPOOL, because of the large number of traveling salesmen who go out from this place each year, is particularly interested in the attempt to be made by the railroads for the enactment of an anti-scalping law by the next legislature. This town pays too much money for traveling to allow the taking away of the privilege to buy a scalper's ticket without some objection.

THE RIGHT INFLUENCE.

For some unknown reason the people of New York and other eastern states have but to go into congress with the request, and they are given almost unlimited money for use in deepening their harbors and improving their rivers. We of the west are not so fortunate. It is very much like pulling teeth to gain any concession from the government, particularly when the Ohio river is concerned.

For many years has congress been pouring millions into the Hudson and a number of other streams of less importance, while fortunes have been sunk into the bottoms of harbors when the people asked appropriations, and it is not ended. The next congress will be asked to appropriate other millions and other fortunes in order that these improvements may be continued and made permanent works.

Not so with the Ohio. Long as the mighty interests which line its shores from Pittsburg to Cincinnati, have been endeavoring to secure some recognition from the river and harbor committee of congress, they have met with but indifferent success. It is true the Davis Island dam has been built, and contractors are working at Merrill, while there is an appropriation to build other dams between the mouth of the Beaver and Pittsburg; but what are they when compared with the expensive works along the Kanawha, or the improvements in any one of half a dozen other rivers? They show clearly that the Ohio has been neglected—that the right influence has not been brought to bear upon the men who disperse the nation's gold. Where is the state board of commerce? Why has not that important body taken up the matter, and by the power of its political and commercial influence demanded that something be done? We of the Ohio valley do not deny that the stream, strictly speaking, is beyond the boundaries of the state, but we do claim that one of the best and most powerful industrial sections of the country is formed by the mills and factories which stand upon its right bank, from Pittsburg to Cincinnati. A series of dams making the river navigable every day of the year, would greatly increase the business of this section, and add largely to the taxes of Ohio. Is it not therefore the duty of every power in the state to urge that the improvement be made, and made as soon as the government can afford it?

A Warm Friend of Rev. O. S. Reed Speaks Out.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I am an humble Christian. I am a warm friend of Professor O. S. Reed. I believe in and trust him, because I believe him to be a true Christian minister, battling against evil in every form in which it presents its hideous self; a minister of God who has the courage of his convictions, and who fears no foe which the enemy of God can control. The letters which Reverend Reed's opponents brought forth are warm recommendations for my friend, but not half so warm as will be produced at the proper time. Innuendoes and hints of wrong doing on the part of Reverend Reed have been made use of. These are the weapons of poltroons and cowards. If Reverend Reed's enemies have proof of wrong doing against him, then it is the bounden duty of those enemies, if they be Christians, to produce those proofs. My friend, like a true and courageous man, as every Christian, having nothing to hide, should be, rings out manly defiance, and dares his enemies to produce any proofs of his doing evil or wrong. Stop the hints. Act like honorable men. Speak out in meekness. Finally. Let traducers beware. Battle against right is sure to be futile, and slanderers will do well to be careful.

Council Decides In the Old Cemetery Matter

AFTER THE IMPROVEMENT BOARD

Stewart Introduced an Ordinance to Kill It—Doctor Marshall Would Have Trained Men Obey the Law—The Eighth Street Culvert Again.

Council last evening held a lengthy and interesting session.

The session was called to order a few minutes after 8 o'clock with all members except Mr. Cain in their places.

The minutes for the regular and adjourned sessions were read and approved, and the clerk announced that there was no unfinished business.

An ordinance was presented prohibiting the blowing of whistles by engines in the city limits except in cases of urgent danger.

Mr. Stewart introduced an ordinance to repeal the one creating and establishing a board of improvements.

The ordinance governing the opening of streets was passed under suspension of the rules, after the solicitor had suggested a uniform rate of so much per square yard for paved and unpaved streets be adopted and put in the permit.

The committee appointed to view the old cemetery for the purpose of determining whether it would be used for a public park, in a written report stated that the city had a right to lay out public grounds for park purposes whenever it saw fit. That it was the duty of the mayor to appoint three resident free holders as commissioners, one to serve one year, one two years, one three years, and one to be appointed annually for three years thereafter. It is the duty of the commissioners to appoint a superintendent, or other necessary employees, and fix their compensation subject to the approval of council. The report closed with a recommendation that the proper precautions be taken to comply with the request of Aug. 10.

An ordinance providing for the annexation of contiguous territory came next, but the territory to be annexed was not mentioned.

Mr. Stewart stated that the committee had viewed the Pleasant Valley plat of W. B. Hill, and as there were no streets on it and would never be the committee recommended the adoption of the plat, and Mr. Olmhausen made a motion to this effect. Mr. Marshall objected very strongly on the ground that by accepting the plat the city was in duty bound to keep up the streets when it could not do it.

For the edification of council, President Peach stated that the tract "started nowhere and ended nowhere, and the streets never could be graded."

The ordinance on accepting plats was read, and Mr. Stewart said that if he had known it would obligate the city to anything he would never have recommended the acceptance of the plat, but if any streets were laid out there "they would have to be suspended in the air." A vote was taken, and the motion lost, Mr. Olmhausen alone voting yes.

Mr. Horwell was called to the chair, and President Peach moved the city solicitor be instructed to take the necessary steps appropriating the old cemetery for park purposes. It carried unanimously, and Solicitor Grosshans explained that the city owned in fact all the cemetery, part of it being donated for certain purposes and the other portion being purchased by the city.

The W. J. McClurg gas company were granted an extension of 30 days to accept their franchise, and the time for the completion of the line in the city was increased from six months to one year. Messrs. Stewart and Olmhausen voted against it.

Mr. Marshall moved the ordinance regulating whistling be placed on its third reading. Mr. Stewart objected to this on the grounds that the railroad company and the city might come to some agreement and have the Eighth street injunction raised.

Mr. Marshall then made a lengthy speech, and said: "That will not affect the Eighth street injunction. We have granted the railroad company the privilege of running their trains through here at the rate of 40 miles an hour. It is an infernal outrage. If we had done our duty in the first, there would be six or seven people living today who are now dead and in their graves, killed by fast trains. We are afraid to do our duty, because some of the railroad officials might look sour at us. There are many sad hearts in East Liverpool that wouldn't be here today if we had enforced the law in regard to fast running, but we have let them do as they please. I would rather that little piece of culvert down in Eighth street would wash into the Ohio river than to grant them anything more than the law allows. We have been mealy mouthed long enough. We are not doing our duty when we allow them to run trains through here at 40 miles an hour when the state law says they shall not go faster than four miles. When we want to put in a sewer and encroach on a piece of their property they rush into court and get out an injunction. They have tried to do us. I believe in putting the screws down as tight on them as they have them on us. We are masters of the situation if we only make use of it."

Mr. Peach said he trusted this council was not afraid to pass an ordinance governing the Pennsylvania company or anybody else, and the motion was carried, Mr. Ashbaugh voting no.

An ordinance condemning property for street purposes on Pennsylvania avenue was read for the first time, and Doctor Marshall asked if there would be any objection to placing it on its third reading, but it was deemed too important by the president.

The ordinance to improve Lisbon street was placed on its second reading, and a long and uninteresting debate was the only result, President Peach holding that the street should be improved to the corporate limits.

The bids of John Ryan and Harrison Rinehart for paving College street were read and referred to a committee composed of the solicitor, engineer and chairman of the street committee. The solicitor said he understood the railroad company had not signed the waiver, and if council were not careful they would have trouble like they are having in collecting the Avondale street assessments.

Mr. Olmhausen called attention to the way the streets and alleys are obstructed by boxes and wagons, and the street commissioner was instructed to see that the ordinance on the subject is enforced.

Edward O'Connor was granted permission to put a scale on Fifth street, and the clerk was instructed to notify the Bridgewater Gas company to lower some pipe in East End.

The time for relaying the pavement on Third street has expired, but after a great deal of discussion the property owners were granted an extension of five days to commence work. Mr. Stewart moved that all property owners whose pavements are not to grade be instructed to commence work fixing them within 10 days. Doctor Marshall amended this by suggesting that the chairman of the street committee take a journey over the city and see what pavements needed fixing. This carried, and President Peach said he would lend Mr. Stewart his horse and wagon to do the work, and everybody smiled.

The county commissioners were asked to give the city the correct location of Lisbon road, and also to give the inside line of the river road to East End, and the engineer was instructed to set permanent monuments at a distance of every 300 feet.

The solicitor was instructed to see that the Rock Spring Street Railway company live up to the franchise, as there is still some objection to the Cook street crossings.

The mayor was instructed to notify residents of Pennsylvania avenue that a resolution was pending to condemn a right of way, and the solicitor, engineer and chairman of the street committee were appointed to confer with the railway official who will be here Thursday, to see if something could not be done toward raising the Eighth street injunction.

let them do as they please. I would rather that little piece of culvert down in Eighth street would wash into the Ohio river than to grant them anything more than the law allows. We have been mealy mouthed long enough. We are not doing our duty when we allow them to run trains through here at 40 miles an hour when the state law says they shall not go faster than four miles. When we want to put in a sewer and encroach on a piece of their property they rush into court and get out an injunction. They have tried to do us. I believe in putting the screws down as tight on them as they have them on us. We are masters of the situation if we only make use of it."

Mr. Peach said he trusted this council was not afraid to pass an ordinance governing the Pennsylvania company or anybody else, and the motion was carried, Mr. Ashbaugh voting no.

An ordinance condemning property for street purposes on Pennsylvania avenue was read for the first time, and Doctor Marshall asked if there would be any objection to placing it on its third reading, but it was deemed too important by the president.

The ordinance to improve Lisbon street was placed on its second reading, and a long and uninteresting debate was the only result, President Peach holding that the street should be improved to the corporate limits.

The bids of John Ryan and Harrison Rinehart for paving College street were read and referred to a committee composed of the solicitor, engineer and chairman of the street committee. The solicitor said he understood the railroad company had not signed the waiver, and if council were not careful they would have trouble like they are having in collecting the Avondale street assessments.

Mr. Olnhausen called attention to the way the streets and alleys are obstructed by boxes and wagons, and the street commissioner was instructed to see that the ordinance on the subject is enforced.

Edward O'Connor was granted permission to put a scale on Fifth street, and the clerk was instructed to notify the Bridewater Gas company to lower some pipe in East End.

The time for relaying the pavement on Third street has expired, but after a great deal of discussion the property owners were granted an extension of five days to commence work. Mr. Stewart moved that all property owners whose pavements are not to grade be instructed to commence work fixing them within 10 days. Doctor Marshall amended this by suggesting that the chairman of the street committee take a journey over the city and see what pavements needed fixing. This carried, and President Peach said he would lend Mr. Stewart his horse and wagon to do the work, and everybody smiled.

The county commissioners were asked to give the city the correct location of Lisbon road, and also to give the inside line of the river road to East End, and the engineer was instructed to set permanent monuments at a distance of every 300 feet.

The solicitor was instructed to see that the Rock Spring Street Railway company live up to the franchise, as there is still some objection to the Cook street crossings.

The mayor was instructed to notify residents of Pennsylvania avenue that a resolution was pending to condemn a right of way, and the solicitor, engineer and chairman of the street committee were appointed to confer with the railway official who will be here Thursday, to see if something could not be done toward raising the Eighth street injunction.

KOCH WON HIS CASE

It Has Been In Court For a Long Time.

CAMPBELL SENT TO THE PEN

He Will Serve Three Years—Schaffer on His Way to Mansfield—Only Two Salineville Men Are Now Locked In the Lisbon Jail.

LISBON, Sept. 29.—[Special]—A satisfactory adjustment was secured this morning between George J. Koch, of New Waterford, and the New York Life Insurance company, which took the case from circuit court. It was settled by Koch accepting $4,750 in satisfaction of his $5,600 judgment. The case was tried twice in common pleas and once remanded from circuit court. The judgment was originally rendered on a life insurance policy of Ira T. Sitler, late of Unity township. Koch held it at the time of Sitler's death.

Joseph White, colored, who was brought here from Liverpool to serve time in the county jail, was released today.

Edward Campbell, of Liverpool, under sentence of three years in the penitentiary for burglary, was taken to Columbus this morning by Sheriff Gill.

Joseph Schaffer, the Salem boy who assaulted Deputy Supplee and is booked for a term in the Mansfield reformatory, will be taken there this afternoon. This leaves only two prisoners in the county jail, Elias Stixt and W. N. Smith of Salineville.

Marriage licenses were issued to Ira Cole, Columbiana, and Sadie E. Clunk, Lisbon; Charles F. Krueger and Grace Sampson, Albert Thompson and Carrie Barton.

IN CITY HALL REPAIRING

James McDole Believed He Should Have the Papering as Well as the Painting, But the Committee Could Not View It In That Light.

Douglass & Baxter put a force to work this morning painting city hall although the original intention was to have the work done by James McDole.

It seems that when the committee awarded the bids they gave the contract for painting to McDole, he having offered to do the work for $194 and the papering for 12 cents a bolt. Preist wanted this last part of the contract for eight cents, and the committee accepted it. McDole expected to do both papering and painting, and when he found the contract had been divided refused to take it. President Peach was notified, and after investigating the matter selected the next lowest bidder.

The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, and in a short time city hall will present a splendid appearance.

TRIED TO HANG A WHITE MAN.

He Had Wantonly Murdered a Negro Boy.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 29.—Reports from Apalachicola say that a white engineer on the steamer C. D. Owens sent a negro boy to a shoemaker for his shoes. The shoemaker told the boy he could not get the shoes without money. When the boy gave the message to the engineer he killed the lad by cutting his throat.

The negroes became terribly excited. They gathered in large numbers and attempted to lynch the engineer. The Franklin county guards were ordered out and with the assistance of citizens a lynching was prevented.

Maude Baldwin, aged 12 years, son and daughter of Robert L. Baldwin.
Dobrinski and the Baldwin boy were instantly killed and the little girl lived but a few minutes. The horse was also killed and the wagon torn to splinters.

MAY IMPEACH MARY SUMMERING.

The Servant Girl of Sausagemaker Luetgert Accused of Perjury.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The battle between the experts has begun, and from now on there will be denials thrown at the evidence of the medical and chemical wise men who testified for the state in the Luetgert case. The defense put its first witness in the expert line on the stand and he will be followed by a long string of others. The witness was Dr. B. L. Reise, who boiled two bodies in caustic potash in the vat in Luetgert's sausage factory and obtained results different from those who boiled bodies in caustic potash in behalf of the state. Another witness of the day was Armadale Opdyke, a peddler, who testified that long after the murder is said to have been committed he saw Mrs. Luetgert in the neighborhood of Janesville, Wis.

There is a strong probability that Mary Summering will be called upon to answer a charge of perjury. In her testimony she gave evidence reflecting on the manner in which she had been treated by Inspector Schaak and Assistant State's Attorney McEwen before the trial, and she gave sworn evidence on the witness stand directly contrary to the sworn evidence she gave at the preliminary hearing, the assistant state's attorney says that he will bring a charge of perjury against her.

DEADLY PLOT AGAINST CZAR.

German Officers Among the Conspirators. Occurred at Warsaw.

WARSAW, Sept. 29.—Though an official denial will be forthcoming it has leaked out from official circles in such a manner as leaves no room for doubt that there was a deliberate and determined plot against Emperor Nicholas at the time of his recent visit to this city. Its success was only frustrated by accident.

Several weeks before the arrival of the imperial party a number of persons, supposed to belong to the German Socialist party, undermined Nory street, the principal street in Warsaw, between the governor general's palace and the royal castle.

As the tunnel, which had been undertaken from the cellar, from a beer house, approached completion, the conspirators became apprehensive of a collapse of the roadway and called in several Polish masons to build supports. The masons, whose suspicions were aroused, notified the police and 130 arrests followed.

Among those in custody are four disguised German officers, either on leave or belonging to the Landwehr, which had been active in the actual work of tunneling. A number of merchants and manufacturers from the town of Lodzy, Poland, are also implicated.

OLD BARNEY WAS HURT

Patrol Horses Ran Away This Morning.

THE CASE BEING INVESTIGATED

The Team Were Hitched to the Water Wagon, and Driver Bryan Was a Short Distance Away When They Took Their Leave—Happened at Horn Switch.

Barney, one of the patrol team, was hurt this morning at the Horn switch, and Chief Morley of the fire department has ordered an investigation.

The team, hitched to the water wagon, were standing at Kossuth and Walnut streets, and Driver Bryan was a short distance away when they decided to leave. They moved along Walnut to the Calcutta road, and turned down the hill. All went well until they reached the switch when the wagon ran against the horses' heels and Barney was knocked down. The outfit had by this time attained such high speed that Barney could not arise and was dragged across the railroad. The firemen were quickly notified, and rescued Barney. He was taken to the station, where it was found his left front leg was badly skinned and the ankle injured. He was promptly attended to.

There are several stories regarding the matter, and Chief Morley has ordered an investigation.

Klondyke

The Land of Golden Nuggets.

JOSEPH LADUE,

the new Bonanza King of the Klondyke Gold Regions, gives the facts. His book reads like "The Arabian Nights," BUT Joseph Ladue KNOWS whereof he writes. He was the first man on the spot when the first gold was discovered last August, 1896. He located one rich claim and immediately purchased twelve others at a low price before their value was known. He has refused $100,000 for any ONE of these claims, as they are rich with virgin gold nuggets, beyond the dream of avarice. Joseph Ladue then at the mouth of the Klondyke and Yukon Rivers, by erecting the first house in the region in September, one month after the gold was first discovered. He bought 178 acres from the government on the city site where his town lots 150x50 are now selling for $5,000 each.

Mr. Ladue was fortunate enough to be successful in his trading post investments to have on hand ample capital to carry out his plans, and there is no man living who is better posted on Alaska and the great North West Territories than Mr. Joseph Ladue. He has just returned from that country to his old home in Schuler Falls, N. Y., where he passed a large portion of his boyhood and early manhood. Mr. Ladue left his home nearly twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the west going first to the Black Hills, where he was successful in gold mining, thence to Arizona and the Pacific coast and finally located in Alaska and the northwest, where he has covered almost the entire country since 1882. Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer: strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at about the age of 43. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods, far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all this time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centers upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space) people began to wonder and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

As we have already said, there is no man today alive who knows more about this wonderful country than does Mr. Ladue. What makes his talk of it specially interesting and reliable is the fact that his knowledge of it is practical. It has not been gained from hearsay nor from desultory visits made now and then at certain favorable seasons of the year, but from steady living there through the long summer days and the long winter nights, year in and year out for 15 years, where he now owns the best mining claims on the Klondyke and its tributaries.

In presenting his book to the public we do so knowing that it is by an authority on the subject of which he writes. His first work entitled

"Klondyke Nuggets"

is a brief description of the new gold regions, and anyone desiring authentic information should not fail to avail themselves of our

which places the facts in the possession of our readers. REMEMBER, that our office is the sole distributing point for this locality, having closed exclusive arrangements with Mr. Ladue's publishers.

The cover of the work is beautifully printed in red and gold, the gold showing one of the author's nuggets as nearly as it is possible to reproduce it on paper.

It is easy to secure a copy of "KLONDYKE NUGGETS." Cut out the Coupon and follow instructions.

Klondyke

The Land of Golden Nuggets.

JOSEPH LADUE,

the new Bonanza King of the Klondyke Gold Regions, gives the facts. His book reads like "The Arabian Nights," BUT Joseph Ladue KNOWS whereof he writes. He was the first man on the spot when the first gold was discovered last August, 1896. He located one rich claim and immediately purchased twelve others at a low price before their value was known. He has refused $100,000 for any ONE of these claims, as they are rich with virgin gold nuggets, beyond the dream of avarice. Joseph Ladue then at the mouth of the Klondyke and Yukon Rivers, by erecting the first house in the region in September, one month after the gold was first discovered. He bought 178 acres from the government on the city site where his town lots 150x50 are now selling for $5,000 each.

Mr. Ladue was fortunate enough to be successful in his trading post investments to have on hand ample capital to carry out his plans, and there is no man living who is better posted on Alaska and the great North West Territories than Mr. Joseph Ladue. He has just returned from that country to his old home in Schuler Falls, N. Y., where he passed a large portion of his boyhood and early manhood. Mr. Ladue left his home nearly twenty years ago to seek his fortune in the west going first to the Black Hills, where he was successful in gold mining, thence to Arizona and the Pacific coast and finally located in Alaska and the northwest, where he has covered almost the entire country since 1882. Mr. Ladue is a typical pioneer: strong, hardy and resolute—a man of iron as one must needs be to go through the hardships he has and come out with a constitution unbroken and unimpaired at about the age of 43. Mr. Ladue has not only worked his muscles to good advantage to himself with the result of an abundance of the world's goods, far beyond the dreams of men, but he has evidently all this time been closely observing the conditions of that strange country—the Yukon Valley—which has so suddenly become one of the great centers upon which human interest throughout the world is focussed.

When the wonderful stories began to come down from the Yukon country it was naturally concluded that it was at least half exaggeration. That any such amount of gold could be taken in so short a time from a country like that under the most most unfavorable conditions was held to be incredible. But when the great bags of virgin gold began to be poured out upon mint counters in San Francisco under the eyes of the whole world (for modern journalism does this, annihilating time and space) people began to wonder and the wonder grew day by day as the real facts were disclosed, and now people who are well informed as to the facts declare that half the truth has not been told of the golden treasures of the Yukon Valley.

As we have already said, there is no man today alive who knows more about this wonderful country than does Mr. Ladue. What makes his talk of it specially interesting and reliable is the fact that his knowledge of it is practical. It has not been gained from hearsay nor from desultory visits made now and then at certain favorable seasons of the year, but from steady living there through the long summer days and the long winter nights, year in and year out for 15 years, where he now owns the best mining claims on the Klondyke and its tributaries.

In presenting his book to the public we do so knowing that it is by an authority on the subject of which he writes. His first work entitled

is a brief description of the new gold regions, and anyone desiring authentic information should not fail to avail themselves of our

which places the facts in the possession of our readers. REMEMBER, that our office is the sole distributing point for this locality, having closed exclusive arrangements with Mr. Ladue's publishers.

The cover of the work is beautifully printed in red and gold, the gold showing one of the author's nuggets as nearly as it is possible to reproduce it on paper.

It is easy to secure a copy of "KLONDYKE NUGGETS." Cut out the Coupon and follow instructions.
